

Proposal: website, workflows and photography for Charcuterie Chick

Prepared for Tricia Holfelder, Charcuterie Chick (The Chick Goodies), Tomball, Texas

The short version

You asked for the same logo, the same story, real numbers, real buttons, cleaner photos and an elegant feel, built to be found by search engines and social media. That is what we built. Three complete website directions are live for you to choose from, and a fourth, an immersive one, is in preview.

The website is $600, as we agreed. This proposal adds the pieces that turn a website into booked events: the workflows that answer, follow up and ask for reviews; the photography work that makes your own pictures look the way your food deserves; and a care plan that keeps everything running after the first 90 days, which are included.

Our recommendation is the Revenue Engine package: the full website, the workflows and both photography services, for $1,600 instead of $1,800 bought separately.

What we built

Three full websites, each five pages (home, menus and prices, photos, about you, get a quote), each with your real prices, your real photos, your reviews from The Knot and WeddingWire, and a quote request that lands on your phone in one tap.

	Direction	What it says	Link
1	Garden Atelier	Elegant, editorial, warm boutique	https://charcuterie-chick-sample-1.vercel.app
2	Midnight Supper	Evening, cinematic, the cart as the star	https://charcuterie-chick-sample-2.vercel.app
3	The Gathering	Bright, friendly, prices up front	https://charcuterie-chick-sample-3.vercel.app
4	The Table (preview)	An immersive 3D table you scroll along	https://charcuterie-chick-sample-3.vercel.app/table.html

Pick the one that feels like you. Any of the first three is the $600 website. The fourth is custom-built and priced as an upgrade below.

The Revenue Engine

A website on its own is a brochure. The Revenue Engine is the system we run behind it, in four stages. Each stage is a line item in this proposal, so you can buy the whole engine or start with the website.

- 1. Get found. Your Google Business Profile claimed and cleaned, with your real photos, services and prices; the site built for the searches people in Tomball, The Woodlands, Spring and Conroe actually type; the sitemap submitted to Google and Bing; Instagram, Facebook and Pinterest set up to send people to the site.
- 2. Get chosen. A site that looks like your food, says what you charge, shows your 5.0 on The Knot and WeddingWire, and answers the questions people ask before they call.
- 3. Get booked. A quote request that reaches your phone in seconds with the date, the headcount and the table, an enquiry log so nothing goes unanswered, and one nudge if it does.
- 4. Get booked again. A thank-you after the event, a one-tap review ask, and a note to the same host thirty days later. Reviews are the cheapest source of both new bookings and search rank.

We do not promise rankings or booking numbers. We build the machinery, we measure it, and we report it to you in one screen every month.

The Revenue Engine, Immersive	Immersive website, workflows, both photography services	$2,700	$2,450

The first 90 days of monitoring and small changes are included with any website. The care and growth plans are optional and start only if you want us to keep running things after that.

What each item includes

A. One-page site, $150. One page with your logo, your story, the grazing tables with real prices, the menu, a gallery, your reviews, a short FAQ and your contact details. Your photos and your words. Call, text and quote buttons that work. Hosted on our address so your current site stays untouched. One round of edits. If you do not like it, you do not pay.

B. Full website, $600. Everything in the one-page site, as five pages, on your own domain. Local search work: structured data for a catering business, titles and descriptions written for the searches people type, page speed kept fast, your name, address and phone consistent everywhere. Google Business Profile claimed and cleaned. Instagram, Facebook and Pinterest set up to point at the site. The problems on your current site fixed: the four $0.00 prices, the fifteen placeholder gallery slots, the template statistics, the broken FAQ link, the blog pager, the duplicate product blocks and the "Menu Fastfood" footer link. A quote form on the grazing table so your $2,000 to $3,500 orders start online. Ninety days of monitoring and small changes after launch.

C. Immersive website, $1,500. The Table finished as your site: the 3D table home page with a designed phone version, the inner pages restyled to match, the live quote total set in the scene, performance and device testing, and everything in the full website above. Custom-built, which is why it takes three weeks and costs more.

Workflows package, $500. Three workflows built around how you already work, with texts sent from your own phone and no automated replies to your customers.

- Enquiry log with a nudge: every quote request is logged with the date, headcount and table. If one sits unanswered for a day, you get a reminder.

- Thank-you and review ask: two days after an event, a thank-you text with one photo from the table; the next day, a one-tap link to leave a Google review.
- Day-30 return: a short note to the same host a month later with a seasonal offer you set.
- Templates for all three, written in your voice, plus a one-screen monthly report: calls, quotes, bookings, best photo.

Photo recreation, $450. A set of twelve new images for the home page and social media, produced from your own photographs: your tables, your cart, your boards, recomposed and finished at full resolution. You approve every image before it is used. No stock photos, no borrowed food.

Care plan, $89 per month. Hosting and domain management, uptime monitoring, a monthly check of every page, form and link, security updates and backups, up to one hour of changes a month (menu prices, new photos, seasonal notes), and a quarterly search check.

Growth plan, $199 per month. Everything in the care plan, plus two Google Business Profile posts a month from your event photos, the review workflow kept running, a monthly search and leads report, and up to three hours of changes a month.

Timeline

When	What
Day 0	You pick a direction and approve this proposal
Day 7	Full website live on charcuteriechick.ai (immersive: day 21)
Day 14	Workflows live, templates in your phone, first monthly report scheduled
Day 10 after originals	Enhanced photos delivered; recreated set ten days after that
Days 1 to 90	Monitoring and small changes, included
Day 91	Care or growth plan begins, if you choose one

What we need from you

- Access to the charcuteriechick.ai domain settings, or thirty minutes together to point it at the new site.
- Access to your current site's admin, so we can fix the listed problems and redirect it.
- Your logo files as you have them, and your camera-roll originals of the photos.

- Ownership of your Google Business Profile, or we claim it together.
- Confirmation of a few details before they go live: whether the street address appears on the site, the Spanish-language line, the photo on the About page, how the cart, sweets and sips prices are charged, and any dietary accommodations you want stated.
- Two corrections to make on your listings: WeddingWire calls the business "The Catering Chick" in one sentence and lists "$150 per person for stations", which does not match your menu.

Terms

Payment. One-page site: due on delivery. Full or immersive website: half to start, half at launch. Workflows: half to start, half when live. Photography: due when you approve the delivered set. Care and growth plans: billed monthly in advance from day 91, cancel any time with thirty days' notice. Prices in US dollars.

Payable to Galaxy Sports Edge LLC (Garrett Baxley). Pay by card through our secure payment link, buy.stripe.com/8x23cxb6FanJail8JT14405, or by check, Zelle or bank transfer to Galaxy Sports Edge LLC (details on your invoice). Every invoice references this proposal.

Ownership. Your domain, logo, photos and words stay yours. The website files are yours at launch. Nothing on your current site changes until you say go.

Revisions. Two rounds of revisions on the website before launch. Changes after launch are covered by the included 90 days and then by the care plan.

Not included. Advertising spend, a paid photographer, printed menus, online payments, a booking calendar, and automated replies to customers. The last three are left out on purpose: you price by hand, you take payment your way, and your customers hear from you.

Validity. These prices hold through October 1, 2026.
